At the heart of the safety and security services provided for you at no additional cost, is the GEOS International Emergency Response Coordination Center (IERCC) in Houston. The IERCC is housed in what some call the “most secure data center in the world”. IERCC IT systems are housed in an underground anti-nuclear bunker that was converted to a data center less than a decade ago. The facility has redundant electrical grids, internet “fiber” connectivity and is completely self-sufficient when the outside world “goes away”. The IERCC is staffed 24x7 365 days per year with Watch Standers, SAR Mission Coordinators and Duty Officers. The Officer-In-Charge and Deputy Officer-In-Charge are on call 24x7, with additional backup personnel also on scheduled standby.
